

Futures Church

For I know
the FUTURES
I have for you.
These plans
are for good
and not for evil.
They are futures
full of peace
and of hope.

01 BRAND OVERVIEW

Futures Church is a thriving, faith-rich community, with a strong local reach and a growing global footprint.

Our visual identity is designed to reflect the attributes and characteristics of our brand.

These elements make up our brand personality, allowing us to make personal connections with our audience through their interactions.

02 LOGO VERSIONS

The logo of
Futures Church
is a reflection of a
new era in the life
of our church and community.

We want to pay respects to our history and origins, while positioning us firmly for the future and welcoming a new generation of believers.

Our wordmark is the core piece of our brand, and as such should always be respected and given the opportunity to shine.

The following pages demonstrate how to use the logo correctly and consistently.

Co-Primary (1 of 2)

All versions of the Futures logo, both primary and secondary, symbolise a pathway that leads the viewer towards the horizon line, while also resembling the letter, F. The treatment of the icon varies between each logo version and therefore critical that there be clear intention amongst the internal team when deciding which logo version to use for specific communications.

It is essential the Futures Church logo is used correctly, consistently, and never redrawn or modified by an external party.

The logo must not be given to external agencies or partner organisations without prior approval from Futures Church.

The logo can be used on a coloured background or image, but should never be used on a busy background or image that will affect legibility.

Logo files are available in EPS, JPEG, and PNG formats. We recommend that the file formats be used as follows

Clearspace

The clearspace zones indicated around our logo exist in order for it to have maximum impact. These zones are integral to maintaining brand consistency, so at no point should they be interfered with.

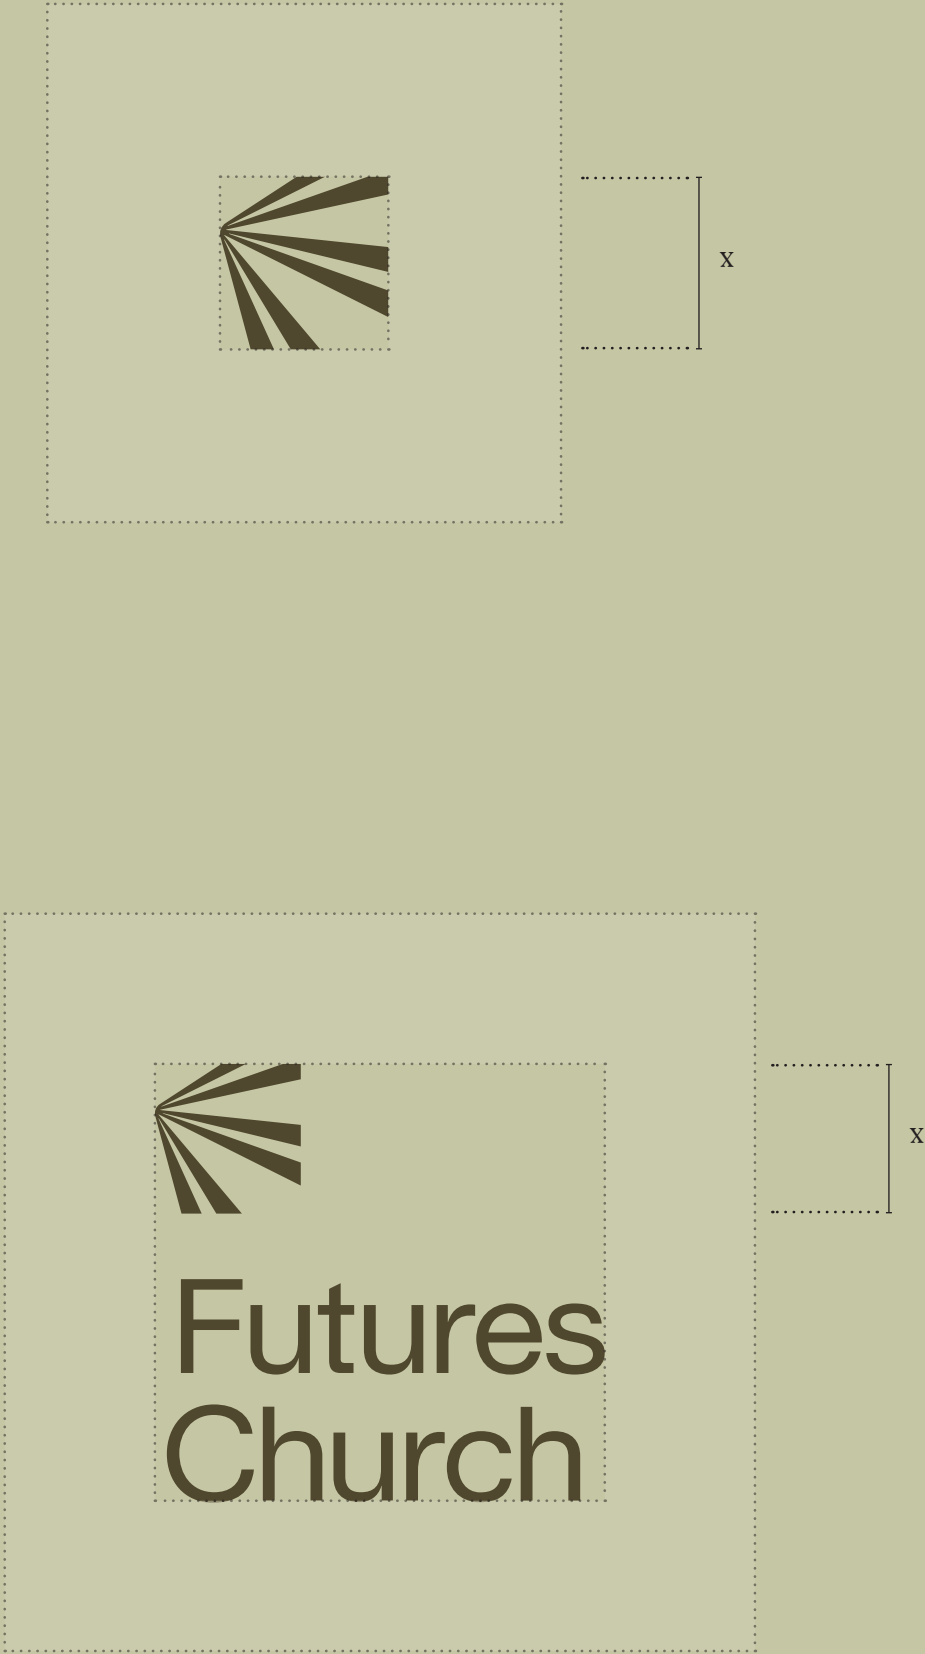

Demonstrated here is the formula for calculating the minimum clearspace required. Where possible, allow more clear space around the logo than the minimum specified.

Minimum Size

To avoid any reproduction issues, proportionally scale the logo to the minimum sizes listed below:

Horizontal	5mm high
Vertical	17mm wide

The logo must be in proportion to the design to which it is applied.

Repetition and consistency are hallmarks of a strong brand. The Futures Church logo must be used correctly, should not be modified and should only ever be reproduced from the artwork provided.

Some common misuses of the Futures Church logo are demonstrated here.

⊗ Do not stretch the artwork out of proportion

Futures  Church

⊗ Do not add effects to the logo

Futures  Church

⊗ Do not tag or contain the logo in a box

Futures  Church

⊗ Do not use multiple colours within the logo

Futures  Church

⊗ Never place the logo on a similar colour background

03 COLOUR PALETTE

Colour plays an integral role in Futures Church.

It allows us to demonstrate our brand personality and stand out in a noisy world.

The palette provides a sense of warmth and boldness. It is expressive, optimistic and reflective of a wide diverse community, and provides a flexible basis for design and marketing collateral.

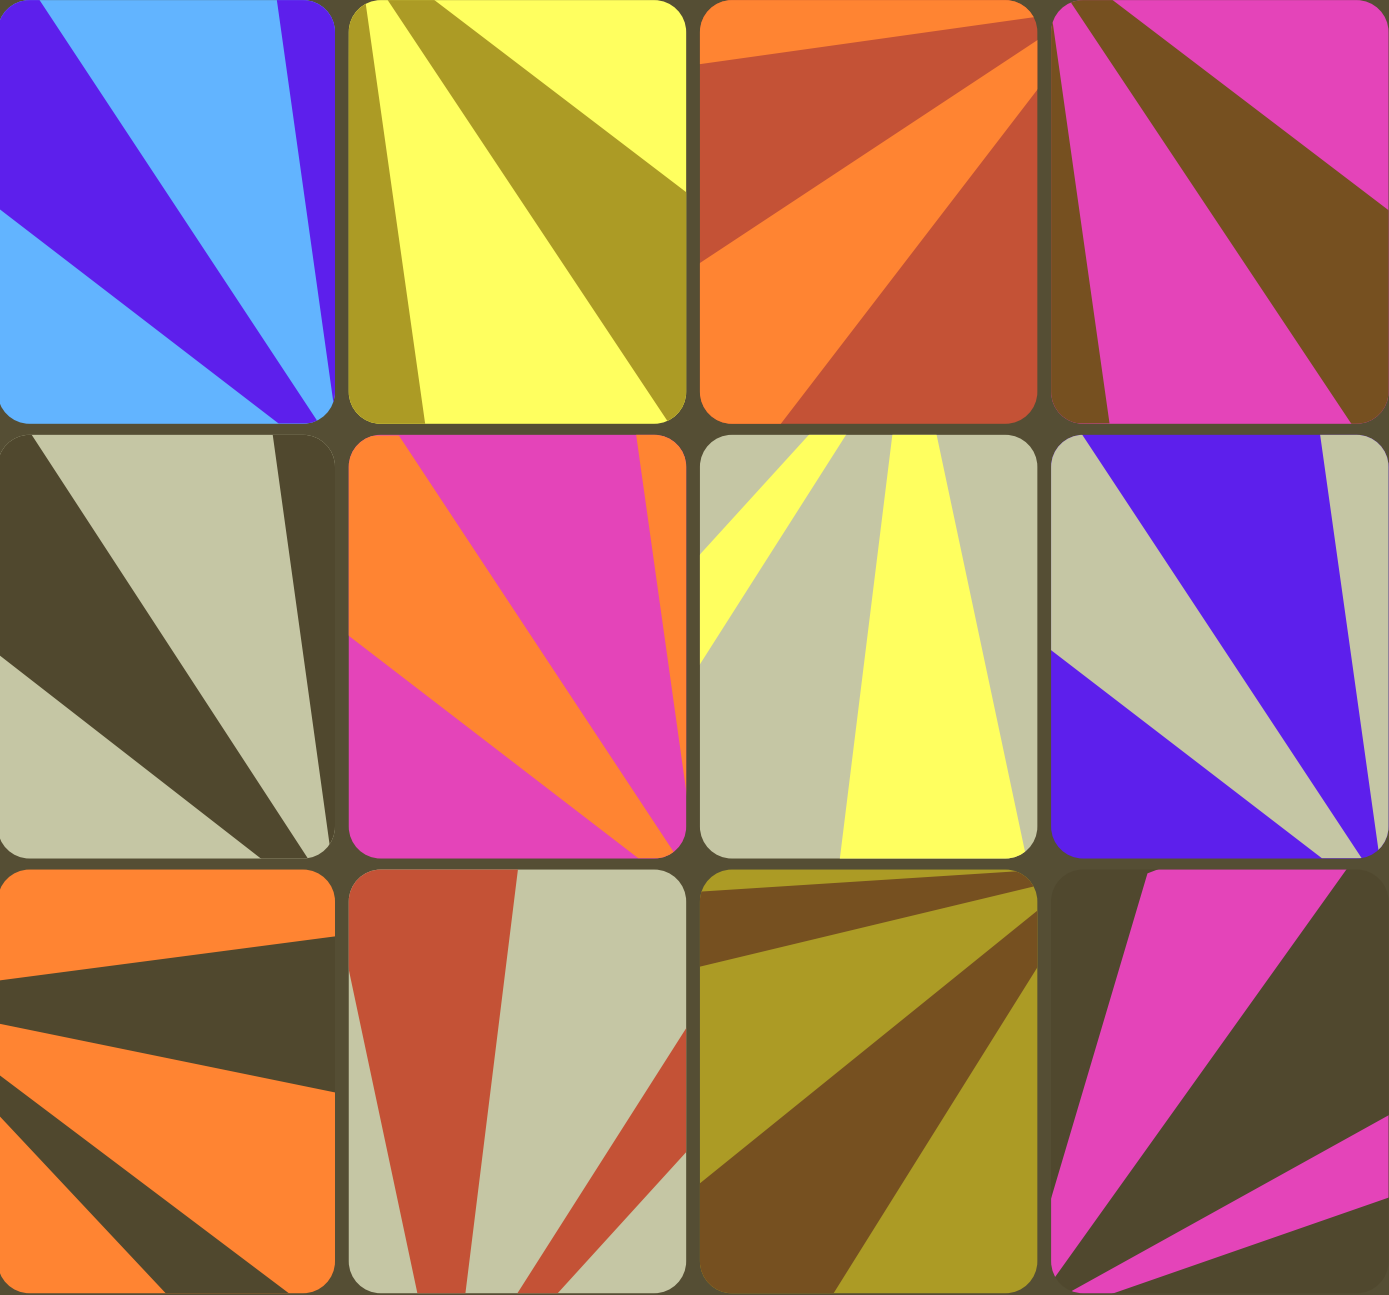

The flexibility of the palette allows for different colours to be used selectively in order to complement communication and draw attention.

This page outlines all the values you should need to specify colour in your day-to-day applications. Values provided include HEX codes, RGB, CMYK, and Pantone colours. While each colour application has its own prescribed usage, it's essential to consider how these colours work together to create the look and feel of our brand. Please consult this colour section in its entirety as you make decisions around colour and its application.

Our goal with this colour palette is not to get absolute consistency across colour technologies (although it's important to try), but to understand the spirit of the Futures colour palette and make sure it's translating across technologies.

When the maximum impact is preferred, two colour pairings create vibrant, punchy communications. These colour pairing swatches provide a fast cheat sheet in determining background colours with typography and silhouette colours. It is important to remember that additional colour will be present in photography and 3D imagery. Be mindful of colour pairings to create harmony within your communication.

04 TYPEFACES

The use of typography brings character to our communications, conveying the personality and meaning of messaging in a way that words can't on their own.

Two typefaces have been chosen to complement the Futures Church brand, and create a sense of warmth, friendliness and professionalism through our communications.

We can set
display and body
text in Rhymes
Text UltraLight
and Light.

UltraLight
UltraLight
Italic
Light
Light Italic

The display and primary typeface for Futures Church is Rhymes Text. It is to be used in collaboration with the co-display and primary typeface, Gal Gothic. This typeface is to be used for typography across all mediums, including print and digital applications.

When Rhymes Text is unavailable, Times New Roman can be used as a free alternative. Please note that this will alter the feel of the communications and is strongly advised against.

Contact Futures Church for access to these typefaces or license them from <https://maxitype.com/typeface/rhymes/>

Rhymes Text comes in variety of weights that can be used when required, however we recommend limiting your artwork to UltraLight and Light. Care should be taken to ensure consistency in application of weights.

We can set

Lausanne Regular is the typeface that our logo derives from. Naturally, there will be times where a sub-brand or initiative within Futures Church will require it's own "logo". Lausanne can be used for such occasions as long as design discretion is used.

Contact Futures Church for access to this typefaces or license it from <https://eng.fontke.com/font/26463289/>

While the following examples are only positional, they indicate how sub-brands and initiatives within Futures Church can appear alongside the logo device.

Please ensure that when creating these that kerning (space between glyphs) is given thought and attention to detail.

The following examples indicate how Gal Gothic and Rhymes Text can be used with one another to communicate key messaging for Futures Church.

A combination of title case and upper case formatting in both typefaces can help to draw attention to unique statements.

05 BRAND ASSETS

The Futures Church brand is supported by the use of visual assets, including photography and 3D imagery, to bring our communications to life and convey information.

These assets should be used in a way that distinguishes us.

When applying these assets to collateral, always consider their purpose and the desired effect we want them to have.

These assets should be intentional and respect our brand, ensuring they are of a quality and standard that aligns with our brand personality and identity.

PHOTOGRAPHY

The photography of Futures Church is categorised into two distinct groups - stylised portraits and situational photographs.

Stylised portraits are designed to showcase our people in everyday settings in an engaging and interesting way. Their purpose is to reflect the true appearance of our people, individually and in groups, but should be stylised in a way that reflects the attributes of our brand. Brand colours and tone should be part of the composition of the images. People used in these images should be diverse, and always pose naturally.

The examples below indicate how this photography can be achieved across individual and group portraits.

Situational imagery is designed to showcase the day-to-day life of Futures Church. This ranges from worship services, speakers and volunteers. These images should evoke a positive emotional feeling. The same principles should be applied to these images in terms of colour, tone and people.

05 BRAND ASSETS
3D IMAGERY

The Futures Church brand is supported by the use of 3D images, primarily of our product range.

These 3D images allow us to highlight the creativity and futuristic vision of our church, using scripture as a basis for this art form. This imagery brings a visual interest that contrasts with photography.

05 BRAND ASSETS
BRAND PATTERN

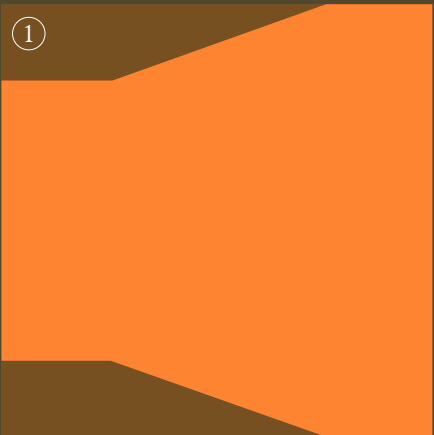

Our brand pattern derives from the Futures Church logo and can be applied over photography or used on its own in collaboration with the approved colour pairings.

The following examples indicate how this patten can be applied over photography, ensuring that the pattern doesn't block or cover the key subject, but helps to enhance it.
